

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

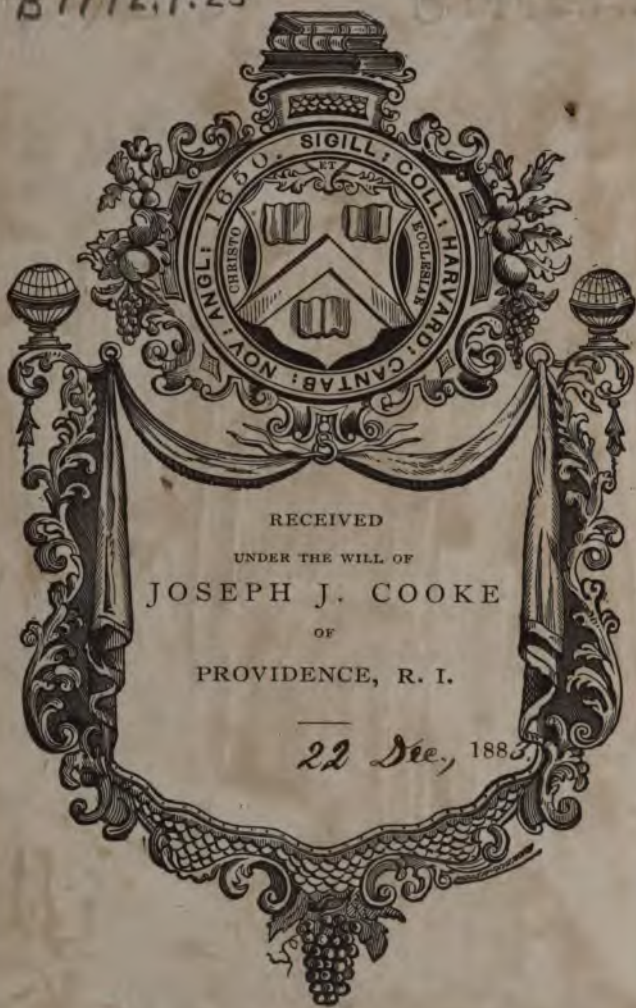

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. CABECA DE VACA. Narrative of Alvar Nuñez Cabeça de Vaca. Translated by B. Smith. 8 maps. Washington, 1851. 4to, half morocco, uncut.

See

Privately printed and scarce. The narration of the unfortunate expedition of Cabeça de Vaca across the territory occupied by the southern states from Florida to Texas in the year 1527, nearly three and a half centuries ago, is full of the most melancholy yet absorbing interest. Nine years of wanderings and captivity among the Indians elapsed before this ill-fated member of a still more unfortunate band escaped almost alone of all who set out so joyously with him."—T. W. Field.

This translation of four of Las Casas's treatises, was reproduced the following year in Amsterdam, with the title as below. The Dutch publisher added the relation of Montauban.
- 298 CASAS. Relation des Voyages et des découvertes Que les Espagnols ont fait dans les Indes Occidentales; Ecrite par Dom B. de Las-Casas Eveque de Chiapa. Avec la Relation curieuse des Voyages du Sieur de Montauban, Capitaine des Filibustiers, en Guinée l'an 1695. A Amsterdam, 1698. 12mo.

This is a translation of five of Las Casas's treatises, entirely different from that by Miggrode. The treatises are all much abbreviated, having been printed to arouse the Hollanders against the Spaniards. The relation of Montauban has a separate title. Mr. Rich says the translation was made by the Abbe de Bellegarde, whose politeness (or perhaps fear of the Spanish influence at the French court), induced him to soften some of the cruel parts, lest they should give pain to delicate persons.

"This professes to be a translation of the French book entitled Tyrannies et Cruautés des Espagnols. The relations of Las Casas proved a most formidable weapon for any nation on ill terms with the Spaniards. Ten editions at least with prints portraying the horrible cruelties perpetrated by the Spanish upon the Indians, were printed in Holland, while struggling with the murderous banditti of Philip II. Three were printed in France, during the prevalence of hostilities with Spain, and four in England under similar animus. It is worthy of note, that the Tears of the Indians places their slaughter at twenty millions, the editor of this Relation doubles the number and calls it forty millions. It is to be hoped that the real number inhumanly tortured and slain has been fictitiously doubled many times, otherwise we should be compelled to believe that the torments of purgatory were too moderate for the Spaniards."—Field.

- 634 EXQUEMELIN, JOHN. History of the Buccaneers of America. London, 1695. 4to, calf.
- The relations of the Buccaneers are full of particulars of the Indians who two centuries since inhabited the islands and the main of the Caribbean Sea. The fierce French and English marauders who so constantly overcame the Spaniards, were as constantly checked or defeated whenever they assailed the Indians of the Isthmus or the adjacent countries. But the most noteworthy historical fact elucidated by this volume, is the proof of the retributive fruit of vengeance forever produced from the seeds of cruelty. The Spaniard, who for a century and a half had devastated the countries of the Indians, now became the prey of fiends as ferocious and vindictive but more powerful than himself.

The narratives and journals of early voyages to the Arctic-territories, of which this work consists, are filled with accounts of the ferocity and vindictiveness of the natives, traits of character for which the present Esquimaux inhabitants have never been remarkable. It is evident that the race of Aborigines which alarmed the early navigators by their fierce warfare, has long passed away, and the place of the implacable red Indian been occupied by the mild fair-skinned Esquimaux.— See Sabin's Dictionary, No. 25410.

- 808 HARIOT'S Brief and True Report of the New Foundland of Virginia. Folio, half morocco, antique. Frankfort, imprinted by Ibon Wechel, at Theodore DeBry's own cost and charges, 1590. New York, 1873. Folio, half morocco.

This edition is a reproduction, in exact fac-simile, of the rarest and most precious book relating to Virginia, and of which there are not more than half a dozen perfect copies in existence. These are in the British Museum and Bodleian Libraries, and in the private collections of Mr. Lenox, Mr. Brown, Mr. Christie Miller, and Mr. George E. Mann. There is a very imperfect one in the library of Harvard College, and one wanting two leaves in the collection of the late Sir Thomas Phillips. We learn that of this reprint there are but very few copies left. We do not hesitate to predict that it will bring double its published price ($35) in a few years.

Large paper. Ninety-nine copies only printed. Elegantly printed on very superior paper. This is in spite of a few typographical inaccuracies, the most complete and satisfactory work of its kind. The descriptions are exact, and a collation of each book is attached. Its arrangement is chronological, but an alphabetical index is added.

"It is the fashion to decry the works of this author, because of the few blunders that are met with in his text; but who can expect perfection in any book, especially one of Bibliography? In spite of that portentous German voyager, 'Ander Schiffahrt,' Mr. Harris's Bibliotheca is the best and most useful bibliographical essay in existence upon the early literature relating to the New World."—Quaritch.

 No one has ever disputed the fidelity of old Herrera, styled the Prince of Historians, to the sources of information then accessible, and no one has ever exceeded him in careful research, and interesting narration of aboriginal history. He sought and obtained many of the original documents, which the industry and spirit of the old missionaries and explorers made so numerous and voluminous.—Field.

The author says, that after having translated the "View of the History of Great Britain during the Administration of Lord North," he thought he might substitute in its place a less prolix and more complete history, preserving all that was useful, agreeable, and interesting in the English work; and adding a narrative of events which would comprise a complete account of the American war.

2 copies only printed on large paper. The most elegant of any of the modern reprints. Dr. Francis L. Hawks the editor of this edition, states, that "within his knowledge there are but two tracts, earlier than this, concerning what was called "Virginia." One was published in 1605, and the other in 1608. In Heber's catalogue, mention is made of a still earlier work — Brereton's "Briefe and true relation of the Discovery of the North part of Virginia, 1602," to which list we add Thomas Harriot's "Virginia," 1588.

A new voyage to the American Islands, containing the natural history of those countries. Highly commended by Boucher de la Richardière, gives an account of the prominent characteristics of the Caribs, the last surviving remnant of whom on the island of Martinique, he visited in 1694, he found only forty-seven persons alive. Since then the last of the tribe has disappeared.

 Gives very extended and very exact details of the customs, manners, and religion of the savages of America, though principally of the Indians of Canada. Charlevoix says: "We have nothing so exact upon the subject of which he treats. His parallel of ancient nations with the American Indians is very ingenious, and exhibits as great familiarity with the nations of antiquity in the Old World, as with the aborigines of the new."

The dramatical part of the work is probably imaginary. The traits of the savages are doubtless fairly illustrated in its course, but it was used as a medium by the author to proclaim his deistical theories, and is of as much historical consequence as Rogers's Ponteach, or Count Johannes's Tecumseh, a Drama.

- WVA 1069 LIBRARY of New England History. Boston, MDCCCLXV-LXVII. 5 vols., 4to, half levant morocco extra, gilt top, uncut, by Mathews.

These volumes, the most elegant of their class, merit a passing notice. They are not mere reprints of the rare and valuable works whose titles they bear, as each work has a copious introduction, and is profusely annotated by an eminent New England scholar. The series is complete so far as published ; one volume of an intended Virginia series is included, that being the only one issued when the work was stopped.

Their titles are briefly as follows :

- I. Mourt's Relation or Journal of the Plantation at Plymouth. With an Introduction and Notes by Henry Martyn Dexter. Boston : John Kimball Wiggin, MDCCCLXV.
- II. & III. The History of King Philip's War. By Benjamin Church. With an Introduction and Notes by Henry Martyn Dexter. Boston : J. K. Wiggin and Wm. Parsons Lunt, MDCCCLXVII.
- IV. Plain Dealing. Or News from New England. By Thomas Lechford. With an Introduction and Notes by J. Hammond Trumbull. Boston : J. K. Wiggin and Wm. Parsons Lunt, MDCCCLXVII.

- Virginia Series I. A True Relation of Virginia. By Captain John Smith. With an Introduction and Notes by Charles Deane. Map in Fac-simile. Boston: Wiggin and Lunt, MDCCCLXVI.

A beautiful copy ; with all the large folded maps. Seldom found complete. It is probable that but few copies were printed, though the large and beautiful plans and military maps, (which give it so great a value) must have made its production a work of much expense. The introduction contains an account of Washington's escape from assassination, by an Indian, in December, 1753.

"There is not a little discrepancy in the views of bibliographers, regarding the issues of this edition. White Kennett makes it the first of the complete English editions, placing it under the date of 1597. What authority he had for his conclusion is not even guessed at by the authorities of the present day. Mr. Sabin simply quotes Mr. Rich's note, to the edition of 1612; "Some copies are without date." Ternaux and Stevens do not notice it. It would seem from this negative testimony, to have been even rarer than the editions of 1612 and 1628."—Field.

Illustrated by Seventy-Eight Plates and a Colored Map*, by Samuel George Morton, Philadelphia. 78 folio plates. Philadelphia, 1839. Folio, uncut.

Highly esteemed by ethnologists, and is certainly the result of a vast amount of original research, by a learned and zealous investigator. The cranial forms of more than forty Indian nations once inhabiting the two Americas, from Canada to Brazil, are examined and compared. Both in this country and in Europe, wherever learning and science are revered, Mr. Morton's work has been recognized, as one of the best contributions to exact knowledge of the history of Man, ever offered as the work of one individual, excepting always the works of Humboldt.

Alcide D Orbigny ... Accompagne de Cartes et de nombreuses Gravures, en taille douce sur acier, d'après les dessins de MM. de Sainson. ... Plates. A Paris: L. Tenre, 1836. Folio.
- Comprises a resumé of the principal facts gleaned from the relations of the authors enumerated on the title page, has little other value than is derived from the one hundred and thirty-four folio pages of steel and copper plate engravings, of which there are two on each page. More than one-half of these are illustrative of some phase in the life, customs, and history of the numerous tribes of Indians of South America and Mexico. Brief descriptions of these facts are found in the text.

Large paper, Fine Original Impressions of the 170 Beautiful Engravings. 1823. 2 vols., roy. 4to, handsomely bd. hf. russia extra gt. edges, cl. sides.
 A very splendidly illustrated work ; many of the engravings are from pictures by J. M. W. Turner. Beside the interesting views of the old colleges and halls are engravings of ancient brasses, elegant examples of old plate, etc., of Middle Age Art. A copy of the very curious plan of the city taken by Ralph Aggas, in 1578, etc.

Several chapters of this curious work are devoted to descriptions of the aborigines of the valley of the Amazon; and those treating of the advantages of commerce with them, suggest an odd comparison with the works of our own day, written two centuries later, which do but little more than repeat the same statements. It is composed principally from that of Acuna.

- 1443 [PAINE. Paineiana. An Extensive Collection of Pamphlets Relating to that Celebrated Character. v.p. v.d.]
5 vols., 8vo, half gray calf, uniform in size.
These volumes contain nearly forty contemporaneous publications, issued between the years 1788 and 1820, and directly relating to Thomas Paine, his conduct, character and writings. Many of them are rare, all are curious and interesting, and they throw much light upon the status and habits of that extraordinary man, and the degree of estimation in which he was held by his contemporaries. It would be difficult, even, if it were possible, to make a similar assemblage now, at almost any cost. The pamphlets are severally in the finest condition, many of them uncut, and as a memorial of the man, whose pen, during the troublous times of the American revolution, was "mightier than the sword," they are of much interest and value.

- Very scarce. "The most extraordinary and valuable collection ever made of the narratives of a class of men who, two centuries before what we term civilization, had prostrated the forests, explored the vast territories covered by them, recorded the peculiarities of the natives, and in many instances bestowed upon them the blessings of Christianity. These relations, for many years looked upon through the haze of sectarian distrust, were lightly esteemed by the students of American history, but the more their character and statements were investigated, the more important and valuable they appeared. They have become the sources from which we must draw almost all the historic material of New York and Canada, during the first century and a half of their exploration by Europeans. It was to perpetuate these monuments of the early history of Canada, that Parliament ordered their publication in this form."—Field.

- 1739 SCHOOLCRAFT, H. R. Information respecting the History, Condition and Prospects of the Indian Tribes of the United States. Collected and Prepared under the Direction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, per Act of Congress March 3d, 1847. By Henry R. Schoolcraft, LL.D. Illustrated by S. Eastman, Capt. U. S. A. Published by authority of Congress. Philadelphia, 1853. 6 vols., 4to, cloth.
- It has performed a very important service for Indian history, in collecting and preserving an immense amount of historic data. Vocabularies of Indian languages, grammatical analysis, legends of various tribes, biographies of chiefs and warriors, narratives of captivities, histories of Indian wars, emigrations, and theories of their origin, are all related and blended in an extraordinary and preplexing manner. A very large number of beautiful steel engravings, representative of some phase of Indian life and customs, are contained in the work, but the most valuable of its illustrations are the drawings of weapons, domestic utensils, instruments, on gunning and amusement, sorcery, and medicine, objects of worship, their sculptures, paintings, and fortifications, pictograph writing, dwellings, and every form of antiquities, which have been discovered. The six volumes contain 336 plates, representing thousands of the scenes and objects named.

- 1761 SEROUX D'AGINCOURT. History of Art by its Monuments, from its Decline in the Fourth Century, to its Restoration in the Sixteenth Century. With 328 plates. London, 1847.

3 vols. in 1, folio, half morocco, uncut, top edge gilt.

This English edition is divided as follows: Architecture, 73 plates; Sculpture, 15 plates; painting, 204 plates.

To antiquaries and lovers of the fine arts, the book is indispensable; it connects the works of Winckelmann and Cicognara, and forms with them a most interesting series.

"This fine work was the first in which the idea of exhibiting the progress of art, by a series of its noblest monuments, was perfectly carried out. By a series of accurate engravings from celebrated monuments, we trace the transitions of art from the classic period to our own times. Sculpture, painting, and the art of illumination and the art of engraving on wood, on gems and on medals are similarly represented.

- 1762 SEYD, Ernest. California and its Resources. A Work for the Merchant, the Capitalist, and the Emigrant. 2 maps, 18 plates. London, 1858. 8vo, uncut.

- 1763 SHAKESPEARE. Dramatic Works, Poems, Doubtful Plays, and Biography, Charles Knight's Pictorial Edition. With many hundred beautiful Engravings on Wood, of Views, Costumes, Old Buildings, Antiquities, Portraits, etc. London [n.d.]

8 vols., royal 8vo, tree calf extra, gilt top, uncut.

This ably edited work ranges in size and character with the elegant Abbotsford edition of the Waverley Novels, and is indisputably the most beautiful of the modern illustrated octavo editions of Shakespeare.

- 1764 SHAKESPEARE'S Comedies, Histories, Tragedies, and Poems, Edited by J. Payne Collier. London, 1858.

6 vols., 8vo, half morocco extra, gilt tops, uncut.

- 1765 SHAKESPEARE. Boydell's Illustrations of Shakespeare. A Collection of Prints from Pictures painted for the Purpose of Illustrating Shakespeare, by the Artists of Great Britain. New York. 2 vols., elephant folio, *gilt edges, half russi*a.

A large and fine copy of one of the most sumptuous and generally pleasing of art publications. The binding is good, the impressions are brilliant and the plates clean. The first artists of the time were secured to paint the pictures, among them were Sir Joshua Reynolds, Benjamin West, Fuseli, Romney, Northcote, Smirkie, Stothard and Opie. The first engravers of England were employed to transfer them to copper, and such artists as Sharp, Bartolozzi, Earlom, Thew, Simon, Middiman, Watson, Fittler, Wilson, and many others, exerted their talents for years on this great work.

Dress, architecture, scenery, are all produced with perfect exactness of antiquarian and archaeological research, and embodied with a skill which only the great masters could command.

"The name of Lord Chesterfield has become a synonyme for good breeding and politeness. . . But it recalls little or nothing of the statesman, the orator, the wit. We forget that this same little man was one of the best Lords-Lieutenant Ireland ever knew, the best speaker in the House of Lords till Pitt and Murray entered it, one of the most graceful essayists, and the wittiest man of quality of his time, a time when wit meant something more than pleasantry and sparkle," etc., etc.—Edinburgh Review.

"Printed in the best style of the Chiswick Press, regardless of time, it comprises 2934 Titles given in full, with the collation and price of each work. It was intended as far as it went to be a manual for collectors of this expensive class of books. But it did not go very far, containing as it does not a selection, but only such books as the author happened to possess at that time. It was intended to supply the deficiencies by additional volumes, but these have never appeared, and probably never will in this form."—Author.
